NOTICE

The College had offered a short term value added course on a 30-hrs 'Advance Data Analytics with MS Excel' to interested students. A number of students signed up by paying Rs. 500 for the same. JD Birla Institute was to certify students who completed the course

The College has now received a one-time offer by ICA to run the course at JDBI. The certificate issued by them will also be NSDC (National Skill Development Corporation, Govt. of India) certified. The College will now enter an arrangement with ICA for the course while keeping in mind the enhanced value of such a credential.

However, this will be more expensive, thus for the first batch, ICA will charge Rs 1000 for a total of 100 students. The matter was also discussed with some students. So that we can start the course as soon as possible, we ask students who have already registered for the course to pay the additional Rs. 500/- no later than September 5, 2022. Students may submit the money right away to their individual Deans.
